John Van Buren and His Party Friends-Governor Seymour "a Fool;" and "an Accident"--Haskins a "Stage Man"--Letter from Secretary Depew.

ALBANY, Oct. 15, 1865. To the Editor of the Albany Evening Journal: My attention has been called to an article in the Journal, asking from me the rest of the conversation had between John Van Buren and myself, of which he repeated a part in his Albany speech. As Mr. Van Buren gave the public such a free rendering of what I said, and has delayed so long without narrating what he said, I can ac-count for his reticence, only on the ground of his well-known modesty, and must be-lieve that he told part of the conversation in order to render the publication of the remainder necessary.

Mr. Van Buren seemed anxious about the probable action of the Union Convention, and asked me "if we would nominate tion, and asked me "if we would nominate Slocum and the other gentlemen of the Democratic ticket who had heretofore acted with the Union party." I told him "No but that we could make a clean ticket, and have a square stand-up fight."

He spoke of General Barlow, and said of him that, "for extraordinary personal courage and brilliant individual achievement, his record was very remarkable."

John said "Governor Seymour had a let-ter from Judge Denio to read to the Tweddle Hall Convention, but circumstances rendered it necessary for the Governor to leave at such an early hour that the Judge's eave at such an early nour that the Judge's effort had been lost to the world."

Said Mr. Van Burer: "Seymour is a d—d foel. He spoiled everything at Chicago, and has been the cause of most of the disasters of the Democratic party." I suggested ters of the Democratic party." I suggested that the Governor had more strength with launched, manned by the crew. Including ing that his friends did not like this, and friends objected to that. In the good old days of the Democratic party," said he, "when anybody spoke of his friends as not pleased with any course projected or determined, he meant my father or Silas Wright; when anybody speaks of his friends in the his paper has spoken of me in the lairest and kindest way nearly every day for some months past. Van Buren declared that "Mr. Seymour was the most extraordinary political accident that had ever appeared in American political life. A quiet accident," said he, "who says nothing and falls into prominent position, and by keeping still while in office manages to conceal his unfitness, and then tumbles into another good place, is comprehensible; but how a man who talks perpetually, both in office and out of office, and as perpetually exhibits his weakness, and being often found out, nis weakness, and being often found out, ever comes up again is beyond understanding. "Seymour," he continued, "has no strength in the Democratic party. Your people make him all that he is by abusing him, which renders it necessary for our people to defend him, because he happens to belong to us. He would have gone out of sight long age, but every time he is about going under, Bennett pitches into him in the Herald, and so catches him by the hair of his head and brings him to the surface."

Gov. Seymour is now traversing the State to elect John, and Seymour's friends are shouting themselves hoarse to show their appreciation of John's eloquence. It is a magnificent tribute to the harmonious Democracy, and a more eminent exemplification of Christian meekness and forbear neation of Caristian meestless and forbear-ance than even the Albany Convention.

Mr. Van Buren said "he did not know why he was nominated for Attorney Gen-eral." Unlike the claims the Governor makes, he had never found it difficult to escape nominations. Besides, he was At-torney General twenty years ago, and it was no particular honor for a man, after the lapse of twenty years, to go into the same hole he came out of twenty years

Van Buren urged in his speech, as one of the reasons for repeating our conversation, that no relation existed between him and myself, which implied any confidence in regard to any communication I might have to make to him. The relation must be reciprocal, so he gave me the secret history of the nomination for Attorney General. He said "the matter was left with the New York delegation, and they selected Haskin (Banard's referee), but the country delegates would not stand that, and Haskin himself displayed eminent good sense in not pressing his claims, and he was aware of his lack of the qualifications requisite to discharge creditably the duties of the office; he having been," said Mr. Van Buren, "a stage man, I believe." As Mr. Haskin claims to have made the Democratic platform and controlled the convention. claims to have made the Democratic platform and controlled the convention, I thought this did not exhibit becoming gratitude toward the man who, if that claim is just, must have been Mr. Van Buren's political parent. I trust Mr. Van Buren will pardon me for having deferred so long, after this invitation to disclose them, presenting his views in regard to Gov. Seymour, the unquestioned leader of his party, and my friend Haskin, whose persistent courage forced a patriotic expression from an unwilling convention.

Yours, &c.,

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW.

POLITICAL.

The contest between John Sherman and Gen. Schenck, for a majority of supporters in the State Legislature, with a view to the United States Senatorship, has been very close, and the friends of Schenck claim that Sherman is beaten.

A resident of Charleston, S. C., a gentle man of much culture and moral worth, says that the two most unchristian and severe denunciations of the North he heard in that city, were by natives of the old Bay State—Rev. William C. Dana, son of the late Daniel Dana, D. D., of Newburyport, and Rev. William Hopper Adams, son of Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D., of Boston.

Governor Perry, in his message to the Legislature of South Carolina, says that if the members of Congress to be elected from that State should be "in Washington with their credentials when the clerk calls the roll, they cannot be excluded more than those from Massachusetts." He added that no man in South Carolina could take the test outh and that it is not the policy of the test oath, and that it is not the policy of the President to enforce this, and he believed it is not the policy of Congress. This declaration is of considerable importance, and has a semi-official tone. But the Governor may be too fast. The President, in his declaration to Virginians, has seemed to in. claration to Virginians, has seemed to in-dorse the test oath, or at least to leave it to Congress, who are very likely to insist upon its general application, without much regard to its right or wrong, its policy or im-

Holden the present Provisional Governor of North Carolina, is a candidate at the coming election for the same office. His opponent is Worth, the present State Treasurer. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal says that a letter from Raleigh states that his chances of election the Boston Journal says that a record and that this competitor, Mr. Worth, will probably be elected by a considerable majority. The latter has the advantage of Holden in his record as a Union man, and also from the fact that he is pledged to the payment the depredations of these cruisers roused a spirit of indignation and rancor in the spirit of indignation and rancor in the depredations of these cruisers roused a spirit of indignation and rancor in the spirit of indignation an the fact that he is pledged to the payment of the State debt—a matter which the Holdenites timidly say nothing about in their platform. This latter omission, it is believed, will throw a majority of the secession vote in favor of Worth. But the prompt rejection of the plan to pay the debt by the convention, on President Johnson's of very little value for Worth.

The election of Gov. Sharkey as United States Senator from Mississippi has been cited as conclusive evidence that the Legislature approves the Governor's course, and is in favor of the bill allowing negro testiis in favor of the bill allowing negro testimony in court. The same Legislature, however, also elected J. L. Alcorn for the long Senatorial term. Unlike Governor Sharkey, he is opposed to the negro testimony bill and in favor of abolishing the special court of equity, established by Provisional Governor Sharkey and recognized by the Convention, and of punishing severely the officers carrying out its decisions.
In thus choosing one who is opposed to the course and views of the Governor, the Legislature nullifies whatever approval may

The results are thus described in the English papers:

the rank and file of that party than any of the Coolies who threw themselves into the water on hen coops, the boats saved one hundred and sixty-nine, and all the Europeans. Captain Hoskins' boat made five trips, but the others were soon smashed; one of them had at half-past twelve brought off the Captain, whom his own crew re-fused to he!p. The steamer Lady Elgin, which was near, left for Port Canning, no hint was given to three hundred miserable wretches who were sinking, to launch the when anybody speaks of his friends in the Democratic party now, he means Mr. Richmond, Mr. Cagger, or some man who controls; but who Seymour refers to when he speaks of his friends, nobody knows. If they exist at all, they do not appear among its representative men." I felt hurt that John did not mention Mr. Marble, of the New York World, in his list of Democratic leaders, for Marble is a friend of mine, and his paper has spoken of me in the lairest would have succeeded in getting the greater would have succeeded in getting the greater portion of the Coolies out." Two steamers were at once sent round from Calcutta, and the Lady Elgin returned from Port Can-ning. They found three Coolie lads on the mast of the wreck, and saved about sixty more, who, with others, had floated to Hal-liday's and Butcher's Islands, where the tigers are said to have destroyed many of the wretched men. The Coolies assert that the last European attempted to fire the ship. of the four hundred and ninety-seven Coo-lies, two hundred and sixty seem to have perished on that terrible Wednesday morning, or afterwards in the jungle.

The Naval Trial.

The great dock trial between the Wisummary termination yesterday by the re-fusal of Mr. Dickerson to allow the Algonquin to complete the ninety-six hours' trial. account of alleged unfairness and violaon account of alleged unfairness and viola-tion of the agreement by the engineers of the Winooski. Consequently, at ten min-utes past two o'clock yesterday afternoon, the engine of the Algonquin was stopped, after she had completed 63,252 revolutions. Mr. Dickerson's friends claim that he is jus-tified in refusing to pursue the trial further, as one of the articles of agreement was that the throttle valve of the Wincoski should remain open. This was done; but the Wi-nooski's engineers used a stop valve, which Mr. Dickerson insists to all intents and purposes is a throttle valve in the manner in which it is used. The engineers of the Winooski allege that there is no unfairness on their part; that it is perfectly legal for them to use the stop valve, as this simple arrange ent performs the very same duty as the omplicated cut-off of Mr. Dickerson. They also insist that within two hours of the stoppage of the Algonquin's engines, the Winooski had gained two hundred and thirthe ninety-six hours as originally intended. Last evening she was running splendidly, making fully fifteen revolutions of her wheels per minute.

The whole of this subject will be referred to the Secretary of the Navy for his adjudication.—New York Herald, Oct. 27.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEED .- The friends of the colored man have reason for con-gratulation that so clear-headed and hongratuation that so clear-neaded and non-est-hearted a man as Attorney General Speed, of Kentucky, occupies his important station, when other officials, born and re-siding further North, have shown such truckling subserviency and inhumane sentimentalism. The Attorney General, in a yet unpublished opinion upon the right of colored troops to the bounty granted to volunteers, decides that a slave owes paramount allegiance to the Government; that he is bound to fight for the Government against the public granty. against the public enemy—against his master, if a rebel; that such service to the Govparty, and my friend Haskin, whose persistent courage forced a patriotic expression from an unwilling convention.

The Chicago papers have a sad story totell of a girl who, after having been seduced, was charged with having robbed the man who ruined her. When arrested she was temporarily confined in an upper story of one of the city hotels. Leaping from the window of the room to the ground, she sustained injuries which will undoubtedly prove fatal.

The many admirers of this distinguished dissolved, can never be restored; and that, independent of any act of Congress, or proclamation of emancipation, the soldier of the loyal army is a freeman—is capable of contracting with the Government for pay and bounty, and, without respect to color, is fully entitled to all the benefits and rewards of the service he performs, and, therefore, entitled to the bounty offered by Congress to volunteers.—Boston Common Transcript.

What England has Brought Upon Her-

The London Daily News frankly tells the English that evil results have come of their conduct during the war. It says:

The Alabamas and Shenandoahs were admitted to all the privileges of men-of-war, and were allowed to pursue their career of spoliation unmolested. We are now witnesses to the consequences of our doctrines. As we have sown so we are reaping. Nor will whining, depreciation, or blustering repentance avail us now.

It needs little sagacity now, surely, to determine which would have been the more advisable course—the course which was actually followed, or that which was rejected. No one, certainly, who has watched the course of the war, will pretend that the devastations of the Alabama and Shenandoah either shortened or prolonged the war one The Alabamas and Shenandoahs were either shortened or prolonged the war one hour. No doubt individuals suffered great loss; but it is in vain to imagine that the resolution of the Executive at Washington or of the American people was influenced one jot by their calamities.

Probably the effect upon the North was that the mass of their mercantile marine was transferred into the names of British citizens. The national injury that was done was done by this country. The people of the North felt with a bitter pang, which it may take years to assuage, that if their commerce had been destroyed it was destroyed by ships built, equipped, armed and partly manned by British citizens. Had there been no Liverpool and no Glasgow, there would have been no Alabamas. What we have done has not been to aid the North or the South, but to exasperate both. The North, indeed, felt that, let the British sympathizers do what they please in the way of supplying fast sailing steam cruisers, they could not ultimately effect the result of the war. But it is vain to deny that the depredations of these cruisers roused a spirit for indirection. was transferred into the names of British crew as pirates, we offer no opinion. It is natural enough that some who encouraged and defended those who were engaged in fitting out such vessels should be alarmed at the results of their doctrines. But they should console themselves with the refle suggestion, makes the issue in the canvass tion that, as these consequences inevitably of very little value for Worth. probable that their principles need revis

The Blair Brothers.

The two elder members of the Blair fantily, Montgomery and Francis P., Jr., have allied themselves to the Democracy. The Union party can extend their hearty congratulation to the Democracy on this accession to their ranks. If the two politicians prove as mischievous to the Democracy as they have to the party which they have left, the Democrats will rue the day that they received the deserters. The result is scarcely probable, for the affinities of the Blair brothers have always been with the course and views of the Governor, the Legislature nullifies whatever approval may have been included in the previous choice of the Governor himself. They send Sharkey to smooth the way for their admission, but send Alcorn along to neutralize any loyal vote Sharkey may be tempted to give.

Awful Shipwreck.—Two Hundred and Sixty Coolies Drowned or Eaten by Tigers.

The American built ship Eagle Speed was wrecked near Halliday's Island, on August the 22d, while on her way from Port Canning to Demars, India, with four hundred and ninety-seven Coolies aboard. The results are thus described in the Engwas a very fine thing which they conde-scended to patronize. But since they threw the Blairs off they have forsaken it, to catch a ride on the Opposition train.

These Blairs are the only family in our politics that constitute a faction, consciously working together for mutual aggrandize-ment. There are the Washburns, to be sure, who all belong to one party, but yet never have manifested the clannish spirit, and acted like a mischievous cabal, as the Blairs have done; nor has any other fam-

The Blairs have been compared to the Grenvills, Bedfords and Jenkinsons who figured in English parliamentary history in the last century. The propelling mo-tive of these familes was rancor or greed. They were venal; they had a small following in parliament; they had large posses sions and considerable constituencies; they were sold in the lump. But the buyers found them intractable and faithless. The parallel is good. The motives of the Blairs is the same; self-interest is the mainspring of their actions; they follow the stronger motive, which is the greater reward. They are treacherous to friends and intractable in the hands of their allies the moment the strong play of their ambition is not satis-fied. They freely make up for the lack of their following by their boundless assur-ance, the virulence of their hate and the intemperateness of their scolding. They have had no real business with the party to which they attached themselves, and never did it more service than by leaving it.

Galety in the Mexican Capital. A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from the City of Mexico, says that two days after the inauguration of Morello's statue, there was a ball at the place, in which the rank, fashion and beauty of Mexico society shone in all its luster. Madame Almonte, the Marquese of Viyance, the Baroness of Escandon, and Marshal Bazaine's wife, were particularly noticed. Madame Almonte wore a beautiful dress of white ownesi, ornamented with knots of blue satin, and on her head a blue velvet diadem. The dress of the Marquese of Vi-vanco was peach color, of a very delicate tint, with white blonde and fringe ornaments. She wore a diamond set, with broche and ear-rings of the most magnifi-cent water. On her head was a red velvet coffure, embroidered with pearls and green ribbons which compose the three national colors. The costume of the Baroness of Escandon was magnificent-a beautiful dress, with a waist of point Pangleterre; on her head a small crown of roses covered with a net sprinkled with gold, two boquets of diamonds on each side, and sparkles of diamonds on each side, and sparkles of diamonds surrounding her curled hair. The necklace and bracelets were pearls and diamonds mixed. Her costume was certainly worth half a million of dollars, and ty-six turns on her opponent, and over eight hundred the previous twenty-four hours. The Wincoski still continues to run the ninety-six hours as originally intend. set presented by the Empress. The hair-dress was formed of an emerald lozenge surrounded with the diamonds, but he youth and beauty were her finest ornament, Outside of these high personages, crowds of beauties had come to charm the delicion party, to which Her Majesty the Empress Charlotte had invited the flower of Mexican William Mackey, of Marshal county, Ill., who had served for a short time in the Revolutionary war, and was in active service in the wars of 1812, and with Mexico, died a few days since. He was a soldier of the Revolution before he was twelve years old, and was a married man before he was seventeen. His bride was a child of thirteen. They lived together for over eighty years, and had fifteen children. The couple lived to see their fifth generation. At the time of serving in the Mexican war Mackey was seventy-five years of age.

A number of bankers, brokers and merchants in Canada West have been swindled chants in Canada West have been swindled to the extent of $50,000 by a man named McGregor, who sold them worthless drafts on New York, issued by some person in Ohio. McGregor was arrested in Windsor by a broker whom he had swindled out of $1,200, but upon refunding the money was released, and immediately crossed the river to Detroit. The victimized parties from London, Chatham, and other towns have been at Windsor for two or three days past, in search of the swindler. As no forgery was committed, it is believed that Mc-Gregor cannot be arrested.

The Richmond Enquirer, originally published in 1804, has reappeared. It is controlled by one of its old proprietors. In the course of its salutatory it says: "The oath of allegiance taken by ourselves, in common with our fellow-citizens, has a far different significance now than the same oath could have had before the unsettled question of supremacy between the State and Federal Governments had been decid-ed by the arbitrament of war. Now we acknowledge allegiance first to the Union. Before we held obedience to be due first to the State, and the same honesty and sincerity which made the sons of Virginiz brave the dangers of battle, and suffer uncom-plainingly the hardships of a four years' war, will make them true and faithful to their oath of allegiance."

The official vote from ninety four coun ties in Georgia, returned to the office of the Provisional Governor, foots up a little over thirty-five thousand. LYNCH LAW-TWO MEN HUNG. incennes Sun states that on Thursday night of last week, a number of citizens of Crawford, bordering on Dubois county, Indiana, arrested a couple of men, suspected of having a few nights previously attempted to break into several houses in that vicinity. They failed to give a satisfactory account of themselves to the mob-did no deny their guilt or affirm their innocence— and refused to give their names. The citizens then procured a rope and hung them to a tree to compel them to divulge, which they persistently refused to do, and after hanging and letting them down several without eliciting any information, were found to be dead.

In the North Carolina convention, while the Hon. B. F. Moore, delegate from Wake county, was factiously haranguing the house against the telegram of President Johnson forbidding the assumption of the State rebel war debt, the flag-staff upon the Capitol broke and fell upon the roof with a thundering shock that startled the conver tion, and was accepted as an omen. cident, Moore found the hardinood to ex-claim: "Yes, Mr. Chairman, when North Carolina submits to dictation, that flag-staff ought to fall!" It won't do, Copperheads. The American pine or spruce is not yet grown that will consent to wave the Stars and Stripes over the assumption of the rebel debt or the repudiation of the Union debt.—N. THE JOURNAL---THE LOGICAL but under what circumstances? We have CITY AND GENERAL NEWS.

The Journal of yesterday morning repreaches the old sermon about certain people at the North, not heeding enough the other words, not minding their own busi-

It gives us, in full volume, and bristling with red hot interrogations, as with hooks on which to hang up all northern radicals, the old story about the low wages, hard work and poor living of the sewing girls and other female operatives of the Northern cities. It is a sad and thrilling subject -one every way worthy the thought and eloquence of the Journal. We do not think the Journal can give too much labor to gathering the facts and bringing them to bear upon the public mind and conscience; nor need it fear lest its appeals and its logic should be too fervent and too efficient. In its own words, we may say, "there is work enough there to engage all its fine abilities, materials for its most pointed epigrams, and thrilling bursts of humane eloquence."

But when, in the present condition of the country's affairs, the Journal teaches that because there is this class of over-worked and under-paid females among the people negro under this Government, we can but be amazed and astonished. This kind of once very common. We supposed it had been renounced with the sin in whose service it had so often been used as weapon. Either the Journal has told us its hones belief as to the duty of Northern people towards the freedmen, or else it stands convicted of pandering to ignorance and mere sectional prejudice. To assume-and, indeed, in the absence of any admission to the contrary, there is no course open to us but to assume-that the article before us says, by word and by implication, just what the Journal believes, is to accuse it of ignorance to such a degree, and of such shallowness of perception of the logical and moral relations of things, as is amazing and criminal in a public journal. There can be no escape from this. But let us see how some of the Journal's assertions will stand exposure to the facts. It says:

Now, these negroes, if they will work, can get steady employment at ten to twenty dollars a month, and be boarded besides. Common black female servants in this city get eight and ten dollars or more a month and boarded—and do pretty much as they please, and about as little as they please— while the better class can command still better terms. Frequently they will abandon good places rather than do one half the work that a smart German or Irish girl would perform without complaining.

There is work enough, with good pay and good treatment, for all the negroes of both sexes now in the South. There are the most ng calls for labor.

It is true that there is work enough, and heard from end to end of the South. The negroes are there, fresh from the plantations-the good living and good treatment gion a safe retreat, and are harbored and of their old masters. The Freedmen's Bureau bids them work-everybody urges them to work. Now, why don't they go to work? The Journal says they will not, friends except at the risk of being shot We say they dare not, and that they thus down by returned rebel soldiers and show that they are exactly like other peo- guerrillas. We trust measures will be ple. After the experience they have had of what slavery is; after suffering untold hardships during the four years of war-a war which they know their masters waged for no other purpose but to keep them in bondage: and knowing, better than any of many of the counties there was no opposi-tion, and a light vote was polled; in others, distant from the Capital, but a short period if a chance offered, we say it is not strange was allowed to take the amnesty oath, and a large number of loyal citizens, in every section of the State, who were embraced where there is no law but the laws and cusabuses, no murders, no robbing of negroes in the South, by Southern people, since the close of the war? Is it of no moment, in this connection, that colored schools in various parts of the South have been ordered to close by the very men who formerly owned some of these negroes as slaves, the school-houses burned, the teachers ordered to leave? Is it of no moment that peaceable Northern men and women, going into the country on legitimate and peaceable business, have often been warned to leave the country, and been obliged to go? Is it of no moment that officers of the United States army, and privates also, and members of the United States military police, have been murdered, or arrested and threatened with hanging and shooting? And all these things within three months too-some of them within a week?

The animus of all these doings is, "We do not want, and we will not have, Northern people and Northern institutions among us," The belief that the Northern man is their friend is deep and universal in the blacks. Freedom, education, equality before the law, are Northern. The negroes know this just as well as their former masters. Even now, Northern men shrink from going South or sending their money there, because of these very outrages. Life and liberty are not held sacred there practically, whatever may be the theory. And the matter is made no better, by the fact that all over the South men have clung to their slaves, denying them the boon conferred by the President's proclamation and by martial law, until the military power has interposed and compelled the slave owner to let go the bondmen. Now these negroes who will not work, a the Journal has it, know all these facts, and innumerable more of a like character. And their ignorance and superstition do not lessen at all the influence of such facts in making them so distrustful of the good faith of their old masters that they dare not go to work for them. And we trust the Journal will not fail to charge the responsibility for this ignorance and superstition against the proper agents-the system of slavery and those who have sustained it. In West Tennessee and Eastern Arkansas, as well as in Northern Mississippi, we have ing against the moral impression of the ac- had a chance to know what is the feeling of the freedmen, and its causes. The same causes have been at work all over the South. And we might tell the Journal, if it does not already know it, that in this city, in Louisville, Kentucky, negroes who, until the repeal of martial law in this State, had worked faithfully with the same employer for a long time, have now no inducement to contented labor. They complain of too much work, and talk of quitting. Why this change? Their former masters have reasserted their ownership of them, and cratic members generally, at least those compel their employers to pay them, the owners, every cent of their wages.

And yet we suppose there are a hundred thousand poor white females in New York and its vicinity, who might envy the wages and work that are at the option of every black woman in the Southern States. What do the sewing girls and other female operatives of New York say to such a supposition? Wages and work are offered to every black woman in the Southern States, are. Work and wages for black women in the South now, the Journal must know, must mean under the circumstances as they advice to let charity begin at home; in now exist in the South, and not as they may be in the State of New York, or as they may be in Kentucky in 1870. And again: We reinterrogate, where are the thunder of the humanitarians and philanthropists of the Empire State? Why is not a system of the Empire State? Why is not a system of agitation set on foot, why are not societies formed and appeals put forth, and tracts written and distributed, and parties organized with reference to evils at home, evils whose shadows are long and lengthening, evils that pertain to white men and white women and white children of both sexes, evils that, if allowed to go unchecked, must ere long startle the community that is unheedful of them with the graves and direst results.

We wish we had time and space right here to show the Journal what agitation has been made, what appeals put forth, how many tracts written and distributed, how many hundreds of thousands of dollars expended, and how much crime and suffering prevented, by the thirty-four public charitable organizations and institutions, and the thirty private benevolent societies, of New York City alone. The Journal could not have been ignorant, when it wrote this article of the vast eleemosynary labors of the North for its own poor and unfortunate, and that the radical men, as it calls them, have always aided their full upper part of the city.

COLORED SOLDIERS. Gen. Palmer was yesterday apprised of the murder of four discharged colored soldiers by a party of rebels in Nelson county. From a gentleman who came to the city yesterday we obtained the following facts relative to the bloody deed: On last Friday evening, about dark, five recently discharged colored soldiers left High Grove, at the junction of the Bardstown, Bloomfield and Louisville pikes, and when they had gone a short distance on the Bloomfield pike were confronted by a party of armed men, who immediately began to fire upon them, in true guerrilla fashion. Four of the soldiers were shot down, the fifth making his escape by flight. Three of them were shot dead, and the other one was mortally wounded. The offense of these murdered men was that they had been Union soldiers. The instigation to the crime was, of course, rebel hate. In view of this atrocious deed and other acts of rebel malignity and vengeance that have occurred, Union men will not likely hereafter have reason to regret their opposition to the removal of martial law in this State.

Our informant says there are hundreds of returned rebel soldiers in Bullitt, Spencer, and Nelson counties, who go armed and whose bearing toward Union men upon all occasions is domincering and insulting, and who are frequently guilty of the demand for laborers has made itself the grossest outrages upon Union citizens. The notorious guerrilla cut-throat, onearmed Berry, and his band, find in this reencouraged by rebel citizens. Colored men who left those counties to enter the service. cannot now return to see their families and adopted at once to bring these murderers to justice, and to protect loyal citizens from rebel violence and outrages.

LORD PALMERSTON. Henry William Temple, or Viscount Palmerston by right of birth, was born in Hampshire, England, 20th October, 1784, His father was a nephew of Sir William Temple, of literary celebrity, and was created a Peer of Ireland, with the title of Baron Temple and Viscount Palmerston in 1722. Beginning his education at Har row, he studied mental philosophy for a time under Duyald Stewart at the University of Edinburg, and, when twenty-one years of age, graduated as Master of Arts at Cambridge University. He at once entered upon political life. As Peer of Ireland he could seek an election to the House of Lords from Ireland, but he chose ar election to the House of Commons from England. So, when still under twenty-two years of age, he became a candidate for representative for Cambridge University, but was defeated. Very soon after, however, he was chosen to a seat in the Commons by the proprietary-borough of Bletchingley. He managed to retain a seat until 1811, in which year he succeeded in being returned for Cambridge University, whose representative he remained for the next twenty years.

On his entrance into public life he attached himself to the Tory party, accepting, in 1807, the post of Junior Lord of the Admiralty, in the Cabinet of the Duke of Portland. He remained a Tory, holding the flowers on the graves of their friends. post of Secretary of War from 1809 to 1828, under five different administrations, until about 1829, when he took ground in his public speeches in favor of a more active and open sympathy with the struggle on the Continent for constitutional liberty. He left the Tories, and joined the Whigs in 1830, was Earl Gray's Foreign Secretary, and advocated the Reform Bill of Lord John Russell. This latter act lost him his seat for Cambridge University. From 1835 to 1841 he was Foreign Secretary in the Melbourne ministry, and largely ncreased his reputation as a diplomatist. He was in the opposition during the second administration of Peel, and was severe upon Lord Aberdeen for his settlement of the boundary line between Maine and New Brunswick. In 1846 he returned to the Foreign Secretaryship in Lord Russell's Cabinet. In 1851 he was dismissed from this office by Lord John Russell, because he refused to allow his foreign dispatches to be revised by Prince Albert. But public opinion came to his aid, and he at length overthrew the ministry that had dismissed him. In 1855 he formed the ministry which brought the war with Russia to a close. In 1858 his ministry was overthrown, but the next year he was called to form another. Altogether he had a public career of nearly sixty years, nearly fifty of which he held

COMING AROUND .- At the close of the session of the Illinois Legislature last winter, both houses passed a resolution to take their pay in gold. The State Treasurer refused to acknowledge the binding force of the resolution and declined to pay in anything but greenbacks. The Demowho were able to get out of the city without their pay, declined to accept the greenbacks, and threatened to appeal to the force of law to compel the Treasurer to pay gold. Within a few days most of the copperhead recusants have quietly dropped into the Treasurer's office and accepted the greenbacks which they previously refused.

WOOD'S THEATER.-The weather last night prevented a large attendance. The great moral drama of The Workmen of New York will be produced again to-night. It is really a most instructive drama, and should be witnessed by all of our theatergoers. Mr. Foster as Mr. Belcourt gives a character that cannot be surpassed. Mr. Harry Hawk as Mike Moran is irresistably funny. Miss Laura Keene has a national reputation as an actress and therefore needs no commendation from us.

HORSE STEALING .- There never was a time within the memory of the oldest inhabitants when horse thieves plied their vocation more actively than at present. In Campbell, Kenton, Bracken, Pendleton and Boone counties there seems to be a regular organized gang of these gentry. Dispatches, letters and handbills, offering rewards for the recovery of stolen horses and capture of thieves, are received by the police of Newport and Covington daily. Sometimes the rascals are caught, but the majority of them escape to Cincinnati, where they dispose of their stolen animals. We understand that the citizens of the up per end of Campbell county talk of organizing a vigilance committee, for the purpose of ridding their community of the BURNING OF THE FRANKLIN COLLEGE. This building, located about five and a half miles from Nashville, on the Stone River Pike, was entirely destroyed by fire, in the middle of the day, on Saturday. The College had been closed for four years, and was reopened in September. The fire was discovered just as the scholars were leaving the dining-room, about one o'clock, when the roof was found to be already consumed. The cabinet, library, and much of the furniture was secured uninjured.

The origin of the conflagration is supposed to have been in a defective chimney, which had not been used since the war commenced. For the first time a fire was made in a stove in an upper-story room and the chimney was thus brought into re quisition. The loss is estimated at fron

LOUISVILLE THEATER.-Notwithstanding of Arrah-na-Pogue, Mr. McDonough ha decided to keep it upon the stage for one more representation, when it will positively be withdrawn. Friday night the charming comedienne. Mrs. Kuhn, will take a benefit, on which occasion she will appear as Eily O'Connor, in the Colleen Bawn. We are sure she will present the character in an artistic manner. During her short stay in the city she has made many friends, who will turn out and give her a rousing benefit.

The citizens of Louisville are under many obligations to Mr. John McDonough for the manner in which he has catered to their amusement during this visit, and will no doubt warmly welcome him when he again visits us.

POLICE COURT-Wednesday, Nov. 1 .-The following persons got on a spree yesterday, and Judge Harbison found it necessary to impose a fine of $7 on each: George Linsberger, Robert Curry, John Fontney, Frank Roland, Vinton Vernich, Patrick Kreaner, George Goodall, John Leyier-all of whom belong to the 18th United States infantry.

This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the vicinity of improper indulgences. Young persons are too ap to commit exe, see from not being aware of the dreading consequences that may ensue. Now who that understand the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is tost sconer by those failing into improper has its than by the prudent? Besides, being deprived of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and wind arise. The system become deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dispersia palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional death, and wasting of the frame, cough, consumption, decay and death.

Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which rum outh bod; and mind, uncitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dispepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debit. MENTALLY—The Teartul effects of the mind are much to dereaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, besing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous, and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eye, cough and symptoms of consumption. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Stocks and Money Market. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.-Gold is easier. The gold paid out for the 5-20 coupons received by the city of Boston, is coming to a certain extent upon the street, and relieves the market. The customs demand is moderate, the price has ranged at 145\(\exists 0145\(\exists 4.\)

Foreign exchange is nominal, as usual on Wednesdays; 60 days' sterling are quoted at 108\(\exists 0108\(\exists 6.\) (francs, long dates, 521\(\exists 6.\)

The foreign imports, at the port of New York, for the last month, September, were $22,674,496, against $100,539,459 for the corresponding month last year, and from the comparatively small proportion entered for ware-house, and the large amount with-drawn from bond, it appears that the receipts were not at all beyond the wants of the market.

The amount of goods yet in bond at their gold value, was reduced more than three million of dollars.

The receipts for customs during September, reached the unprecedented total of $129,296 15, attributable, not only as large amounts of goods entered for consumption. amounts of goods entered for consumption but also to large withdrawals from bond; but also to large withdrawals from bond; while the exports show a decline, the imports were $2,267,449 in gold value, and the exports only $15,523,314 in currency, so that reducing the latter to the gold value, there was an excess of imports over exports of about $115,000,000. This balance, however, has been set off to an important extent by the export of 5-20 honds and extent by the export of 5-20 bonds and other securities. The exports continue large, chiefly owing to the large shipments of cotton.

The exports of domestic produce for the week included 2162 pounds beeswax, 225,521 bbls. wheat flour, 550 bbls. rye flour, 2125 bbls. corn meal, 32,801 bushels wheat, 300 bushels oats, 1994 bushels peas, 19,908 bushels corn, 1082 pkgs. candles, 480 tons coal, 14,691 bales cotton, 1019 bales rags, 12 bales hops, 1739 bbls. crude turnentine, 1984 bbls. hops, 1739 bbls. crude turpentine, 1984 bbls. rosin, 40 bbls. pitch, 1010 gallons whale oil, 480 gallons lard oil, 112 gallons linseed oil. 2539 bbls. pork, 1886 bbls. and 500 tierces beef, 340,023 pounds cut meats, 38,264 pounds butter, 382,712 pounds cheese, 278,683 pounds lard, 185 bbls. rice, 35,225 pounds tallow, 424,284 gallons petroleum, 3156 hbds. and 2036 other pkgs.; crude tobacco, 39,449

From Mexico--Destructive Gale--City of Mexico Almost Submerged --- Curious Phenomenon-Guerrilla Warfare. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The steamer Vera Cruz, from Vera Cruz the 22d of October and Havana the 27th, has arrived, and re-ports that between Tavernier and Corry's Fort light house, eight or nine vessels were on the reef, one of them a large screw steamer, apparently Amercan, about five miles south of Corry's Fort, and surrounded by wreckers.

The Lake of Texicuco, immediately adjoining the City of Mexico, was on the 5th of October within one inch of the level of the city. If the rains had continued a few hours longer great destruction of property would have resulted. Maximilian and the Empress would leave on a visit to Yucatan Nov. 5th.

Subscriptions are to be opened through-out the Empire for the relief of those rendered destitute by the inundation of the past rainy season.

A serious phenomena occurred in the valley of Mexico October 6th. Five large streams of water burst suddenly from the mountain, which, if they do not diminish in volume, will form a considerable river.

An ex-rebel named Mitchell rented a

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 .- Crime in Brooklyn is on the increase and the efforts of the po-lice do not check it. The number of arrests lice do not check it. The number of arrests daily for fellonies are more than double what they were. The jail is now crowded with criminals. The accommodations for their keeping are entirely inadequate. Highway robberies are of nightly occurrence, some times in the most public thoroughfares. Notwithstanding the recent increase of the police force, many of the citizens are in favor of a further increase impediately.

Capitol Extension. NEW YORK, November 1.—The Post's Washington special says the contractors for the extension of the library in the Capitol building will not be able to finish their work by the first of January, according to agreement, though it is proceeding with all possible dispatch. Large additions have been made to the library since the adjournment of the last Congress.

Another Theatrical Trouble in New York. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—To-night is the time fixed by the musicians employed in the theaters of this city for demanding for the theaters of this entry lot demanding for the third time higher wages. Some of the theaters, possibly all of them, may be without music. If the employers refuse to succumb the musicians will probably refuse their services.

Fire in Boston.

Boston, Nov. 1.—The large shoe manufactories in South Boston belonging to Messrs. John Hart & Co., shoe dealers at No. 114 Pearl street, in this city, were destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. Loss about $100,000, on which there was some insurance. ROCKLAND, Me., Nov. 1.—The statue of Maj. Gen. H. G. Berry was erected to-day by the Masonic fraternity. The weather was auspicious and the ceremonies imposing. The fire companies of the city and several thousand citizens, headed by bands of music, turned out to honor the occasion. An eloquent address was delivered by Rev. M. Butler, of Calder.

Address to the Planters of Alabama.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Mobile Times publishes an address to the planters of Alabama, dated Montgomery October 18th, and signed by Stone, J. H. Chouton and Wm. J. Baldwin, whose advice is as follows: The result of the recent war, so disastrous to the South, has been a revolution of your entire labor system. The 40,000 blacks who were recently your slaves, and subject to your will in their every movement, are no longer under your individual control. Hitherto you had been accustomed to direct their labor by your sovereign mandate, now you can command it only by contract. This brings about relations which are new to both races, and brings them so suddenly November 2-3 A. M. Commercial Matters in New York. The Commercial says rumors are still freely circulated respecting the arrangements made between the Atlantic and Great Western and other roads, but without any real foundation. There is reason for asserting that the English capitalists in the interest of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company sailed without having made any definite arrangements respecting seaboard connections with the Erie road, which was sought for by the Atlantic and Great Western Company.

Counterfeiting Establishment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—One of the largest counterfeiting establishments known to the police was discovered in Brooklyn and broken up yesterday.

"Artemus Ward," it is reported, has recently had $200,000 (gold not greenbacks) left him by a rich old uncle in London. We don't know whether this is one of his jokes, or a joke actually played on him; if the latter, it is certainly a good one. We don't think he ever made a better.—New York Tribune.

The New Jersey Election.

It really looks as if old Rip Van Winkle were waking up! The Union ticket is almost certain to be elected in New Jersey. A touch of sadness shades the prospect. What shall we do without her as an "awful example" of the effects of long indulgence in bad politics? What will become of our lively jokes about going out of the Union into New Jersey—about the State of Camden and Amboy, and the other little pleasantries which have so long enlivened the dullness of our stump speeches, and stirred the boys into wild "hy, hy's," figuring in newspaper reports as "loud applause," in a parenthesis? Apparently we must reconcile ourselves to this bereavement, as we do to many others. "Jarsey" seems to be coming over. The campaign has been active, determined and effective. The popularity of Marcus L. Ward, our candidate for Governor, is unbounded and well deserved. The committees have been unwearied and practical in their labors. Kilish The New Jersey Electionserved. The committees have been unwaried and practical in their labors. Kilpatrick has swept through the political battle-field as he used to sweep around and over the rebel cavalry. And Logan, of Illinois, comes in to wind up the contest with such heavy blows as he alone can strike. He speaks to-night at Jersey City, and then goes to one or two other places in the State. We hope he will reserve a few days for service in New York.—N. Y. Times.

ernment, is respectfully invited to the following information:

The Legislature of Kevtneky has generously made appropriations to supply Agents to attend to the claims of our soldiers without expense to them; and all soldiers, discharged or otherwise, and the legal heirs of deceased soldiers, will consult their own interests materially by employing these Agents, who will promptly adjust their claims with the Government.

Col. Charles D. Penebaker, Military Agent of Kentacky, residing at Washington City, will promptly present and realize all claims of Kentucky soldiers FREE of CHARGE. He is prepared to furnish blank forms of all descriptions upon application, and will cheatfully give information as to the proper manner of making out accounts. By applying to him the soldier will save both time and money; for his office being at Washinston City, he is daily in communication with the Disbursing and Auditing Departments, which enables him at once to remedy any deficiency that may arise in their claims. Local Claim Agents, of course, expect compensation for their time and lator, and the soldier, by employing them, in addition to the expense, is employing a remote medium of communication with the Departments at Washington, necessarily attended with d-lay.

The State has also employed Local Agents at Louisville, Ry., Col. John W. Gault and Col. W. De Morrill, who

By order from the Quartermaster Gener-al, the attention of officers on duty in the several military departments is called to the great number of animals belonging to the United States in the possession of persons who have no legal title or rightful claim thereto. Such animals will be siezed wherever found, and turned over to the wherever found, and turned over to the nearest Quartermaster. The persons in possession of disputed property must show title thereto, by virtue of some authorized Government sale, indicated by the brand N. C. or S., or by the report of some duly authorized Government officer.

Jeff. Davis has ordered a new beaver-cloth overcoat of a merchant tailor in this city, who was his old time servitor. The manufacturer of the garment commenced this morning from the measurement taken in 1860, and will probably insist on advance payment, leaving Jeff. to take all the chances on the investment.

The Washington Monument Association will go before Congress this winter for another appropriation in payment of the shaft. The last annual report of the Treasurer showed the receipt of about $11 in popular subscriptions from all sources. About $300,000 are required to carry the monument to the proposed hight,

MORNING STAR FOR MEMPHIS.—The fleet Morning Star, the pride of the lower Ohio, wheels into line to-day as a regular weekly packet to ply between this port and Mem-phis. She starts from Portland this evening at 5 o'clock, in charge of Capt. A. T. Gilmore, with Frank Banksmith in the office. The Morning Star is well known as the Louisville and Henderson mail packet, an out and out Louisville boat, and of course unexcelled in any good quality. She is a new and very staunch as well as very fast boat, but under the superintendence of Capt. Gilmore she has just been thoroughly refurnished, and refitted, and repainted, expressly for the Memphis trade. The painting and decorating, of course, are the hand-iwork of W. O. Williams, the artist painter of the city.

The Morning Star is to run regularly in the line as a weekly packet between this city and Memphis, under the auspices of the Louisville and Henderson Mail Com-pany, who design placing three boats in the trade, consisting of the Morning Star, Tarascon, and another fast packet. COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE LOUISVILLE UNION PRESS, WEDNESDAY EVENING, November 1, 1865. WEDNESDAY EVENING. November 1, 1855. If The new month commences with rather a dull market, and a gloomy, wet and disagreeable day. The rain has been falling at intervals all day, making the streets ex-cessively muddy, and the thoroughfares and street crossings extremely disagreeable to pedestrians.

The market for cotton is somewhat lower, with sales ranging from 43 to 46c, for repacked, and good ordinary, and 49 to 50c for low middling. All kinds of cotton goods are quoted lower to-day, including standard brands of brown sheetings and domestics.

Breadstuffs are quiet, with moderate sales at yester-day's quotations, including a lot of 200 bbls. extra family for the Southern market at $10 50. Grain is quiet, and wholly unchanged.
Although the supplies of pig iron have been heavy the demand has consumed it, and the market is firm at an advance, with very little unsold on the market. In addition to the 200 tons sold two days since on arrival, w hear to-day of sales of 470 tons, including 400 tons hot blast at $57@:8 per ton, and 70 tons choice cold blast at

$75 per ton. The provision market is sustained to-day with only limited stocks on hand, and we continue our quotations. A dealer is in the receipt of a lot of 1700 hogs, for slaughter and cutting up for bacon on the first of the week. They were purchased some time since at 13@13/4c net, or from the hooks, but the packers have as yet made no offers or centracts. The nominal rate is 8 to 9: gross. Freights are lower, and as navigation improves a still further reduction may be expected. Engagements were made to Memphis to-day at 50c for pound lots, and 80c per bbl for flour. To New Orleans pound freights are 80c, whisky $2 per bbl. and flour $1 25. The dispatches to the Merchants' Exchange from New York quote the opening rate of gold 145%, closing at 4 P. M. at 145%. C tton was dull and nominal at 55 @57c. INK.

DR. EELL'S WRITING FLUID

at this place, is fast working itself into publie favor. Wherever it is tried, it is pronounced the best made in this country, and equal to Arnold's celebrated inks. Read the following certificate from the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury Department, at Washington. The Dr. has shown us the original certificate, and we can vouch for its genuineness.-Mansfield (O.) Herald.

Theasury Department,

Thereby certify that I have been using, for some time past, in my office, Dr. S. W. Eeles' Ins., both his writing and copying fluids, manufactured at Mansfield, Ohio and that I am highly pleased with it, and consider it ported ink, and I think less liable to mould.

I therefore recommend it as worthy the attention of the Government Departments in Washington, and all persons who desire a really superior article of ink of American manufacture.

BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD

REOPENED. THIS GREAT NATIONAL THOROUGHFARE IS FREIGHTS AND TRAVEL.

The cars and machinery destroyed are being replace by new running slock, with all recent improvements; and s the bridges and track are again in substantial condi-ion, the well-earned reputation of this road for Speed, Security and Comfort Will be more than sustained under the reorganization of its business.

In addition to the unequalled attractions of natural scenery heretofore cone ded to this route, the recent troubles upon the border have associated numrous points on the road, between the Ohio river and Harper's Ferry with painful but instructive interest.

CONNECTIONS

At the Ohio river, with Cleveland and Pittsburg, Central Ohio, and Mareitta and Gincinnai; railroads, and, through them with the whole railway system of the northwest, central west and southwest; at Harper's Ferry with the Winchester road. At Washington Junction with the Washington Branch for Washington Junction with the Washington Branch for Washington Utry add the lower Potomac. At Baltimore with seven daily trains for Philadelphia and New York.

"WO DOLLARS additional on Through Tickets from Baltimore or the Northern cities, give the privilege of visiting WASHINGTON CITY on route-being $3 lower than the cost by any other line, as recently charged.

This is the only route by which passengers can procure through tickets and through thecks from Washington City.
